

Editor's Note—Henry A. Wallace, Secretary of Agriculture, today joins his colleagues in the Roosevelt Cabinet as proud possessor of the Brass Ring, and takes his free ride on The Washington Merry-Go-Round. A forthcoming sketch on Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau will complete this lively series.)

WASHINGTON — After five years in the New Deal wash, the colors of Henry Wallace have not run. He has changed in some respects. He is not the vegetarian he used to be, and he is actually intrigued by Washington's social life. But the basic ideas he put into his kit bag in Des Moines in 1933 are the tools he is still working with today.

The man who calls himself a dirt farmer, who upset the regimen of his household by going on an exclusive diet of corn for two weeks to prove it all-sufficient for human needs, has become a confirmed diner-out in Washington.

His Negro butler, Edward Crockett, who has served Secretaries of Agriculture for 25 years, says, "Sure he eats meat. He's got to. I couldn't be bothered with such a finicky diet."

Wallace used to lunch on milk, a cheese sandwich, and ice cream. Now he omits the milk because he is putting on weight. He used to be bored with dining out. Now he seeks dinner partners who may have some useful information. He has used tennis regularly. Now he merely walks half of the three miles from his apartment to the Department of Agriculture every morning, coming in with muddy shoes.

Barefoot Boy
He has made some concessions to the proprieties. One afternoon back in 1933, he left his office to play tennis. His new tennis shoes hurt his feet. So he took them off and played barefoot. Returning to the Agriculture building, Wallace got out of the car, shoes in hand, and walked barefoot through the front door and upstairs to his office.

He wouldn't do that today. If he tried, his aides wouldn't let him, for they are hoping to make him the next President of the United States.

Wallace still is abstemious. He declines the cocktail and puts his hand over the unfilled wine glass. He does not smoke, and prepares

Mrs. W. H. Tully is Winner of Award

This week's reward of $5 for careful and courteous driving goes to Mrs. W. H. Tully, 111 Sixth street, this city. The award is given by the Chicago Motor Club and the Dixon Evening Telegraph, once each week for twelve weeks.

Thursday at 2:30 Mrs. Tully was observed driving her car south on Monroe Avenue, approaching the Second street intersection. She planned to turn east on Second street, and as she neared the intersection she slowed down, with left hand out signaling for the turn. When she had reached the intersection a car was seen approaching so she stopped her car and when the way was again clear she started and again signaled for the turn. Although no car was near, she used her left hand in negotiating this corner, which is wise because, while it is not a stop street, there is a slow sign there and the corner is dangerous.

30 Years Military Service Ends For Sergeant Bryan

Chicago, April 16—(AP)—Thirty years of military service will end on April 30 for Master Sergeant William Bryan, widely-known among reserve officers of the 86th division in Wisconsin, Illinois and Michigan.

His retirement from active duty was announced yesterday at sixth corps area headquarters.

Sergeant Bryan was awarded the distinguished service cross in 1930. The citation said he risked his life by entering a burning powder magazine at Fort Monmouth, N. J., and carrying out a number of comrades stunned by an explosion.

Mulligan Named Director Of Air Commerce Bureau

Washington, April 16—(AP)—Denis Mulligan, who has had 14 years of aviation background, became director of the bureau of air commerce today.

Mulligan, who has been connected with the bureau since 1934 and assistant director since October, succeeded Fred D. Fagg, Jr., who resigned to become dean of Northwestern University's school of commerce.

"Alleluia! Christ is Risen! Alleluia! We follow not a dead Hero, but a living contemporary Christ, the One who met Saul on the way to Damascus and appeared in vision to Francis on the mount and flooded Wesley's life with light in Aldersgate Street and sent Grenfell to Labrador and grips men today even as He laid hold of the Syrian disciples in Palestine. The Easter Message is a fact, a certainty, not a myth, not an old wives' tale, but good news. We need to remind ourselves that it is the Crucified and not the Cross that matters; not the symbol, but the reality; not the instrument of the passion, but the passion itself. The sufferings of Jesus on the Cross were horrible. They belong to the nature of a world gone wrong rather to the free first purpose of a God of love.

This Holy Week is a good time to face the question: Christ or Barabbas? Christ or Caiaphas? Christ or Pontius Pilate? Shall we rise up as a so-called Christian America and Christian Europe and espouse Christ and His Kingdom of Universal Brotherhood in God, or go the way of all flesh and yield to the murderous dog-eat-dog policies of a rising paganism? To your tents, O Israel! To Jesus, oh Christians! Let us prepare ourselves for a good Easter, for joy, joy, joy in the Risen Lord!" — The Rt. Rev. George Craig Stewart, D. D., Episcopal Bishop of the Diocese of Chicago.

CHINESE ARMY PUSHES DRIVE ON TO YIHSHEN

Japan Position More Critical Every Hour

Shanghai, April 16—(AP)—A Chinese army vigorously assaulted Yihshen in Shantung province today with artillery, bombing planes and infantry, determined to repeat the great victory at Taiherch-wang, 20 miles farther south.

New field guns hammered at the walls, after cracking Japanese positions on the east, southeast and northeast, and planes dropped bombs.

Chinese infantry systematically attacked Japanese machine gun nests dotting the hills and countryside surrounding the town.

Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek's commanders declared fall of the city was certain, as all its supply lines were cut.

A considerable part of the town was in flames.

Another Reverse
From foreign sources it was learned that another Japanese force had met a serious reverse at Wumu in Kiangsu province where the infantry vanguard had out-distanced its supporting artillery and been ambushed.

This column had departed from Nantunghow, north of the Yangtze from Shanghai, for the eastern end of the Lunghai railroad, objective in central China as the force besieged at Yihshen. Wumu is 90 miles north of Mantungchow.

Relentless Chinese irregulars continued widespread demolition of highways and railways built through southern Shantung province during years of a good roads campaign.

Guerrilla attacks extended to the environs of Shanghai, where 1,200 Japanese wounded were brought in during the last 10 days.

PREMIER MAY RESIGN

Tokyo, April 16—(AP)—Faced by insistence of army and navy leaders for sweeping measures to push a quick conclusion to the conflict in China, Premier Prince Fumimaro Koyama today was reported threatening to resign.

The cabinet was said to be split on the issue of supporting the premier, providing the first real gov-

Court Recessed

Greenville, S. C., April 16—(AP)—Federal Judge C. C. Wyche wrinkled his nose, sniffed, fidgeted a moment—then interrupted a defendant who was testifying.

"What have you been eating—onions?"

"No, sir," the defendant replied, "garlic."

"Let the court recess until 10 o'clock tomorrow morning," Judge Wyche ruled.

Severe Magnetic Storm Disrupts Communication Systems for Hours

New York, April 16—(AP)—

One of the most severe magnetic storms of the Twentieth Century swept across North America today, disrupting communications systems for several hours in many sections.

Scientists said the storm was caused by sunspot activity. They described the accompanying display of Aurora Borealis in the northern tier of states as the most brilliant in 35 years.

The rare "Northern Lights," gleaming like a giant neon tube in the heavens, flickered in bright streaks that ranged from dim pink to "almost blood red" in color, Harvard observatory reported.

Relatively few persons saw the aurora, however, for the display

Clear Skies

Chicago, April 16—(AP)—If you're going to be in Illinois tomorrow, you can don your Easter finery and have no qualms about the weather.

Forecaster J. R. Lloyd said Illinois would have clear skies and temperatures in the middle sixties. He added that there might be a few clouds in the early morning, but by the time the family starts to church, father can leave his top-coat open, junior won't need to cover his new suit with the old winter overcoat, and the sun will shine brightly on mother's and sister's new bonnets.

There will be a light rainfall in some parts of the middle west Easter morning, Lloyd predicted, but Illinois will have its rain late today and tonight in the form of local thundershowers.

DIXON CHURCHES PACKED FOR GOOD FRIDAY SERVICE

Over Thousand Attend Catholic and Protestant Worship

Dixon's churches participating in Good Friday services from 12 noon to 3 P. M. reported record-breaking attendances.

At both St. Patrick's and St. Anne's Catholic churches Mass was celebrated by over a thousand persons, and at the First Methodist Episcopal church where nearly eleven hundred people assembled, a beautiful service of prayer and song was held, with seven Protestant churches uniting in worship.

A fine feature of the union Protestant service was the carefully planned music in which a quartet sang responses augmented by the choirs of the Methodist, Presbyterian, Lutheran, Evangelical, and Christian churches consisting of thirty voices.

Seven ministers were assigned to each of the seven sentences issued by the Lord Jesus Christ as he hung on the Cross.

Several hundred persons came at 12 o'clock and remained the entire length of the three hour service. Others came and went in whatever portion of the service they especially desired to worship.

Missing Boys Of Groton School Reported Safe

Baltimore, April 16—(AP)—A member of the family of 13-year-old Henry W. Distler, reported missing last night with Dirck Roosevelt from exclusive Groton school, said today the boys "have reached here, they are safe."

The members of the family of John Cyrus Distler, the boy's father, said "The boys did not say why they left school." She added, "I'm sorry, the incident is closed," in declining further comment.

LOUIS PITCHER RE-ELECTED HEAD OF PARK DISTRICT

Commissioners Receive Plans For Proposed Field House

The annual meeting of the commissioners of the Dixon park district was held last evening at the offices at 108 East First street. Officers who were re-elected for the ensuing years were:

President, Louis Pitcher; vice president, Edward Valle; attorney, George C. Dixon; secretary, Howard Byers; treasurer, James R. Bales.

Paul Sodergren was appointed park police officer for the summer season. William Barry was re-appointed superintendent of the city park system and John Jensen, superintendent of Lowell park.

Plans for the proposed field house at Reynolds athletic field, as drafted by Robert Reed, Dixon architect, were submitted for examination, and the architect was instructed to complete plans and prepare specifications and advertise for bids, with the hope that the building may be completed by July 1.

Consideration was also given to the bleacher seating system, and the board members decided upon a type of bleacher which will be movable, to be shifted from one location to another to accommodate spectators for baseball, football or other activities at the field.

The board was informed that Page Drive, connecting the high school park with the Lincoln Highway, west of the Borden condenser property, had been macadamized and is now open to traffic. About 1,000 yards of fine sand which was deposited on both the high school and Borden park properties during the high water stage, is now being removed. The Page Drive is to be given an asphalt treatment when funds are available.

With the dismantling of the old Galena avenue bridge structure, all of the stone used in the construction of the piers is to be delivered to the park board. The stone will be used in the construction of a sea wall along both river banks from the new Galena avenue bridge to the dam.

Prelude to Easter Sunday

They toil not, neither do they spin—but lilies like these will gladden the hearts of the faithful all over the world on Easter morning. Symbolic of the purity of the Savior, the lilies pictured above were grown near Santa Cruz, Calif. to be shipped to cities in the east and middle west. Stretching for miles, the lily fields present a picture of striking beauty, enhanced (don't you think?) by the presence of pretty Gloria Daily, shown surrounded by some of the 75,000 blooms grown in the region.

OMNIBUS BILL CONSIDERED TO SPEED RELIEF

Largest Item Will Be $1,250,000,000 For Relief Solely

Washington, April 16—(AP)—Congressional leaders, eager for quick action, considered today drafting an "omnibus bill" to carry through Congress President Roosevelt's main relief and public works recommendations for spending to end the recession.

Chairman Taylor (D-Colo.) of the House appropriations committee, indicated this procedure might be followed when he announced hearings would start Wednesday.

The largest item in the bill will be the proposed $1,250,000,000 for relief for the first seven months of the fiscal year beginning July 1.

What other items will be included was under study. It was expected, however, to contain an allotment of $450,000,000 for public works grants to cities and states and whatever additional appropriations and authorizations may be necessary to provide for works loans.

Needs More Power

Informed members said it was virtually certain the Housing Authority would need additional power to carry out the proposed new $300,000,000 slum clearance program. Whether this should be included in the omnibus bill or handled separately was undecided.

Receivers of Park to Open Headquarters

Receivers Robert A. Rodesch and Carl Kling of the Assembly park property will open an office in the Laing building just north of the Dixon National bank building on Galena avenue. The office will be open from 1 to 5 o'clock each afternoon throughout the week.

Those interested may call at the headquarters and become acquainted with the plan which has been outlined by the receivers in an effort to retain the property and to improve the grounds and equipment and attract the public to the natural beauty spot on the banks of Rock river. The large number of telephone and personal calls for information on the restoration plan has necessitated the opening of a central office where the program may be explained to those interested.

Baseball Game and Loop Shopping Thrill Kansas Children On Tour

Chicago, April 16—(AP)—A baseball game and a Loop shopping tour were the big attractions of the city today for 21 high-spirited Kansas youngsters being treated to an Easter vacation by a one-time mule skinner who struck it rich in oil.

The children, aged six to 15, arrived yesterday from Hutchinson, Kas., on a special five-car train. They, and 16 adults, were guests of L. E. Douglass, Kansas oil operator.

Among the youngsters were the three Douglass children who sold the idea of taking their classmates to Chicago for an Easter vacation.

The children didn't know it but they were the biggest attraction in the Palmer House dining room last night. While they gaped at the floor show and listened to the music, the other hotel guests watched them.

The outstanding thrill of the first day's visit was the desert at dinner—illuminated ice cream Easter rabbits perched in nests of frozen spun sugar. It cost Douglass $100, added to his $700 a day for 19 rooms and meals.

The party is costing Douglass about $6,000, but he said it was worth it.

DIXON READY FOR EASTER OBSERVANCE

Church Services Will Feature the City's Activities

The resurrection of Jesus Christ, significant of new hope and assurance to mankind, will be observed in all the churches throughout the city tomorrow by special Easter services.

Beginning at sunrise many of the churches will open their doors to worshippers and services will continue through the day. Special music, featured cantatas and Easter pageants will be dedicated to the symbol of the Living Christ.

Traditional Easter bonnets and new spring clothes will appear along the avenues and in homes small children will enjoy colored eggs and Easter rabbits, completing the city's observance of the Christian holiday.

PROCLAIM END OF LENT

Vatican City, April 16—(AP)—Church bells, stilled since Holy Thursday, rang out the end of Lent and the joy of the Risen Christ in the Eternal City's multitude of churches today as priests within them struck flints to light the paschal candles.

At Florence, fireworks were employed to express the joy of the faithful. A metal dove, carrying a lighted fuse, was released from the cathedral's high altar and traveled out of the structure on a wire, reaching an ox-cart loaded with rockets, which it set off in the square outside.

Priests, attended by acolytes, visited homes throughout Italy, sprinkling them with holy water. Many priests, including Americans who prepared for the priesthood in Rome, were ordained.

Canonization Ceremonies
Tomorrow's Easter services at St. Peter's, which have attracted hosts of tourists to Rome, will be even more elaborate than usual, for they will include public canonization ceremonies.

Publicly-venerated for the first time will be Andrea Bobola, Polish Jesuit martyred in Russia; Salvador da Horta, Spanish lay Franciscan, and Giovanni Leonardi, Italian founder of the clerics of the Mother of God.

Pope Pius will be borne into St. Peter's on a throne, flanked by his ostrich plumes, heralded by his trumpeters and flanked by his guardsmen for the Easter mass.

After the mass, the Pontiff will bestow his blessing on the multitude from the balcony of the Basilica.

PRESIDENT'S EASTER

Washington, April 16—(AP)—President and Mrs. Roosevelt have arranged a quiet Easter Sunday as a prelude to the traditional egg-rolling expected to attract 50,000 children and adults to the White House grounds on Easter Monday.

The chief executive and first lady will attend morning services at St. Thomas Episcopal church. Mrs. Roosevelt also will attend sunrise services in Arlington cemetery and place a lily cross on the Unknown Soldier's tomb.

Easter Monday—only day in the year when the White House private grounds are open to the public—will find the President and Mrs. Roosevelt hosts to a huge throng.

Traditional Egg-Rolling

The first lady will make several quick swings through the south grounds, where thousands of children will begin rolling, tossing, and eating bright-colored eggs to gay band music at 9 A. M. Sometime during the day, President Roosevelt is expected to appear on the south portico to greet the egg-smearing crowd.

Gates will be thrown open at 3 P. M., to adults and hundreds of tourists.

GROUP YOUR FURNITURE

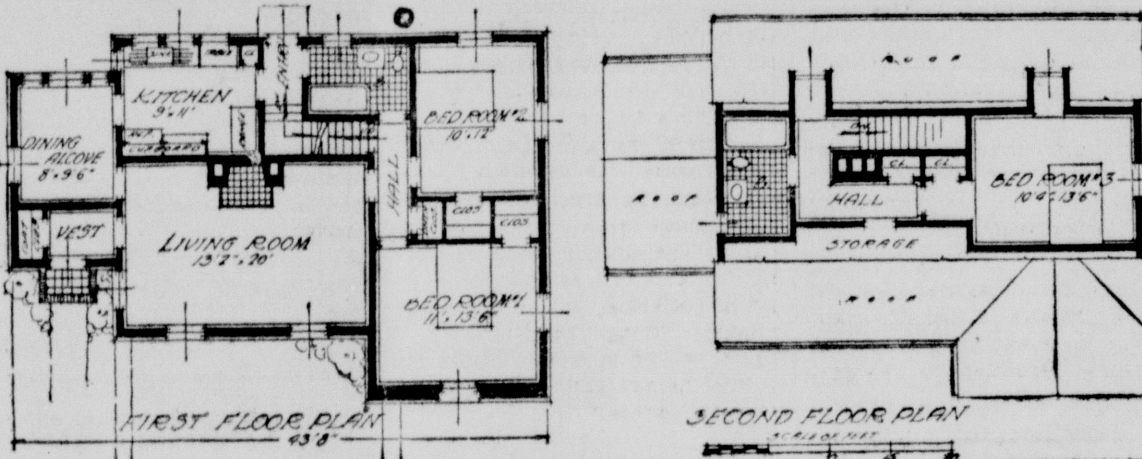

It is essential that your furniture should be properly arranged in your living room in order to make conversational groups thoroughly possible. Improper arrangement puts a decided crimp in the spontaneity of your party of you have to raise your voice to be heard across the room by someone seated in an isolated chair in the far corner.

It would be a splendid idea to make an inventory of your living room and see whether or not it is arranged for comfortable and enjoyable conversation. You will find, perhaps, that a little shifting around will make a great deal of difference.

If you have a large room, it is best to break up the arrangement into several conversational groups but if it is a small room as in the case of the average home, you can assume that six or eight people who have gathered together for conversation should be considered as one group, and arrange your sofa chairs and other furnishings accordingly.

There are several furniture groupings possible. If one has a fireplace, a grouping in front of the fireplace is one of the best arrangements. Or a group may be centered around a sofa or around a reading table. At one end of the room a permanent card table or game group may be arranged or if there is a large window overlooking a particularly delightful view, a furniture grouping arranged around that window is worth while.

House Features First-Floor Bedrooms

This charming small house in Great Neck, L. I., contains 23,500 cubic feet, full clear basement and finished second story. The total cost was about $7,700. It is of frame construction, stone foundation, wood shingle roof. Tile baths, linoleum floor in the kitchen and the roof is insulated. Note how the bedrooms on the first floor are completely separated from the rest of the rooms by the use of a small hall. The rooms in the second floor need not be finished at the time the house is built and later completed when required.

HOUSE DESIGN SETS VALUE

Colonial Type Best For Permanency and Taste

The design of the house is the most important element in determining its permanent value. A choice must be made between the latest fad or fancy, and the adherence to a recognized style, or an adaptation to some style.

The colonial types, for example, afford all the potentialities of a national style and at the same time give place to harmonious blending in with modern ideas. Permanence and good taste are usually synonymous. Good taste is always the survivor of the passing fad.

A home, to be permanent, must have home-like qualities.

One thing which is important is to properly orient the house and its different rooms to the points of the compass. This orientation varies according to the geographical location. In warmer climates the kitchen might well be on the west, where it will be cool in the morning at the time the home maker is doing the work of the day which is done in that room. Then when she is ready to rest in her living room or front sunporch, it is on the east where it is cool and comfortable.

In a northern climate, where there are more weeks in the year when the warm sun is welcome than when it is not wanted, it is very nice to have the sun in the dining room, breakfast nook or kitchen in the early morning, these rooms being exposed to the east or south exposure.

VIVID PAPERING DETRACTS FROM WALL PICTURES

If the walls of your home are papered with a paper that has a very definite or vivid design you can not hang pictures against such a background and produce a pleasing effect.

Plain or simple backgrounds are always desirable. You will note this in all art galleries, where the backgrounds are usually of a monotone plain color, the object being to relieve and set off the picture which hangs against the background.

If you have many pictures, the plain or simple backgrounds are always advisable and the frame of the picture should be regarded as a part of the background.

MOISTURE MAY PREVENT CRACKS

Cracking sounds that occur in a new house are due to drying out of woodwork and pulling out of nails, the settling of floors and possibly the cracking of plaster. Many of these defects can be remedied if humidified air is supplied in the house or if the evaporating pan in the furnace is kept full of water.

There are approximately half a million persons in the United States suffering from tuberculosis.

ure, and the living rooms on the west where the afternoon sun will brighten up the room for hours of leisure or sitting-down tasks.

Home Planting

Too much emphasis cannot be placed upon the usefulness of planting as an adjunct to the design of the small home. Trees and shrubbery should be used to improve the architectural character and are frequently more effective than the decorative use of material. They provide charm, essential to the attractive home.

Furthermore, planting may add directly to the living qualities of a property. Shade trees are best placed so that they will provide shade from the hot afternoon sun and frame the house. Trees need room to grow and should never be planted too close to the house. A few fruit trees are always desirable, both for their fruit and their flowers, and should be included in your planting selection.

GLASS MAKES HOUSE CHEERY

Whether you are building a new house or modernizing and repairing your old one, by all means install as much glass as it is possible to use so as to have the house bright and sunny. A generous use of glass stands out as one of the best ways of making the home more attractive.

There are so many things one can do with glass. It creates a cheerful, pleasing atmosphere and care should be taken to have delightful, attractive views from each window.

Motion pictures of the rare white rhinoceros have been made in Africa by Capt. C. W. R. Knight.

Students to Present Concert Friday Night

The advance sale of tickets for the high school orchestra and band concert has been progressing very satisfactorily during this week. The concert, to be given next Friday evening, at the high school auditorium. This concert promises to be one of the most unique affairs of the season. The participants range in age from nine years up and perform like veterans, although the majority of them have been receiving instruction for the past year only.

Orville Westcott, instructor and director, has planned a very interesting program of band, orchestra and solo numbers of great color and variety. He insists that the event should receive the hearty response of not only the parents of the musicians but the general public of Dixon and that the auditorium be packed to capacity for the concert to encourage the youngsters and give them impetus to develop their talent.

The proceeds from the concert will be used in the purchase of instruments and uniforms and to assist in defraying the expense on Saturday next, when the junior musicians will participate in the district contest to be held at DeKalb. The complete program and list of members of both the band and orchestra will be published next week.

Edna Mossholder and Vernon Rhodes Wed

On Thursday afternoon at 2:30 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde E. Mossholder, the marriage of their youngest daughter, Edna Helen, to Vernon Rhodes was solemnized. To the strains of Lohengrin's Wedding March, played by Mrs. Kranler, the wedding party took their places in the large living room. The impressive double ring ceremony was performed by Rev. James A. Barnett, pastor of the First Christian church, before a large group of relatives and friends.

The bride was very winsome and sweet in her beige suit with luggage tan trimming and accessories. Her flowers were a corsage of tea roses. Her attendants were Miss Lorraine Rhodes, sister of the groom, and Miss Olive Boos. Their suits were in two shades of gray and each wore beautiful corsages. Mr. Rhodes was attended by Paul Joynt and Kenneth Mossholder.

After the ceremony was performed and congratulations received, the following four friends of the bride assisted in serving the refreshments: Miss Sylvia Carey, Mesdames Marie Rogers, Helen Mae Tate, Marion Taylor. The table was made very attractive by the three tiered wedding cake which was baked by the bride's aunt, Mrs. Frank Coakley.

The high regard and best wishes for this estimable young couple was shown by the many pre-nuptial parties and beautiful gifts which they received. After a short honeymoon Mr. and Mrs. Rhodes will be at home to their many friends at 315 East First street.

OUR GANG CLUB ENJOYS MEETING—

One of the Our Gang club's most enjoyable meetings of the year was that at which Edwin Levan was host. The meeting was called to order by the president, Bertha Sahl. After a very interesting meeting, everyone played 500. The first prizes were awarded to Dorothy Butler and Robert Tourtellot and consolation favors to Martha Elsie and Robert Fischer. Refreshments were served by the host after which the members departed thanking him for a most enjoyable evening. The next meeting will be held at the home of Robert Fischer on Tuesday, April 19.

HOME BUREAU UNIT TO MEET—

The Dixon Afternoon unit of the Home Bureau will meet Wednesday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock with Mrs. Frank Kingsley on route 4. The major lesson on "Legal Papers" will be given by local leaders and the minor lesson on Lee county history will be given by the minor leaders. A good attendance is desired.

PAGEANT AT CLINTON—

The pageant, "The Dawning," will be given in the Methodist church at Clinton, Ia., under the direction of George O. Anderson, son of Mrs. Alice J. Anderson of Dixon. Mrs. Anderson's son Donald will play the part of the centurion. Several from Dixon are planning to attend.

EASTER CANTATA—

A special Easter cantata will be given at the First Christian church Easter afternoon at 2:30. The East Jordan church choir under direction of Louis Leydig will present the cantata. Admission is free and the public is cordially invited to enjoy this fine musical event.

PALMYRA TEACHER'S READING CIRCLE—

The Palmyra Teacher's Reading Circle will meet with Miss Vera Anning Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock. Book reports will be given by Miss Anna Lehman, Miss Geraldine Lewis and Miss Luella Powers.

HOUSE GUEST—

Miss Frances Gerdes, a student at Carthage college, is spending the Easter vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Erick Gerdes, 233 Hemlock avenue, and is entertaining as a house guest a fellow student, Miss Lucile Klug of Wauwatosa, Wis.

PEORIA AVENUE READING CLUB—

The Peoria Avenue Reading club will meet Monday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock with Mrs. W. W. Gilbert, 303 Peoria avenue.

PRACTICAL CLUB—

The Practical Club will meet on Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock with Mrs. Frank Wilson.

Junior Association Of Commerce Spring Dance Monday Night

Marking the conclusion of the Lenten session and in celebration of Easter, the Junior Association of Commerce will sponsor its annual spring dance at Brinton Memorial Masonic Temple, Monday night.

The dance will be the second spring function staged by the Junior Association in as many years. The local organization has also successfully staged a Christmas dance of a semi-formal nature which has become well-established as one of the winter's leading social events. The dance Monday night will be strictly informal and those wishing to attend are urged to purchase tickets from members of the organization at a nominal cost immediately.

As the dance is being held during the spring vacations of many colleges and universities and large number of college students is expected to attend. Over two hundred couples were present at the Christmas dance which proved an outstanding social success.

DINNER GUESTS—

Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Bowers will have as Easter dinner guests, Supt. of Schools and Mrs. A. H. Lancaster and son Allen and Mrs. Florence White.

Brain Twizzlers

By
PROF. J. D. FLINT

Do you ever come home and check the money in your pocket and wonder what you did with that dollar or quarter or dime that you spent and can't account for? That's the way you'll get caught on this problem. It's gonna getcha if you don't watch out!

A man left his home one morning to go shopping. He had only a ten dollar bill in his pocket. After shopping for a while he had spent most of it and needed more so he presented his check for four dollars and fifty cents to the bank and a fifty-cent piece with it and received in return a five-dollar bill. With this he proceeded to continue his shopping and when he had finished he not only had spent what was left of the original ten-dollar bill but also all of his five-dollar bill with the exception of one dollar and a half. How much did he spend altogether?

Answer to Question No. 1

1. Yes. It makes people "loosen up," and does more than perhaps any other dance to bring the wall flower into the game. Of course, it is a revival, or rather a survival of the old jungle dances of the savages when they were trying to rouse themselves to a state of ecstasy for the hunt or for battle.

Pioneers in Aviation Meet in Dearborn to Honor Wrights

Detroit, April 16—(AP)—Men who pioneered in aviation and men who are leaders in present-day commercial and military flying gathered in Dearborn today to honor Wilbur and Orville Wright, the brothers who built the first successful airplane and taught the world to fly.

Topping the list of notables was Orville Wright, who came here from his home at Dayton, Ohio, for the ceremony, on the 71st anniversary of his brother's birth, dedicating the newly-restored Wright home and workshop in Henry Ford's early American village.

The house, in which Orville was born and in which Wilbur died 26 years ago, and the bicycle shop where they manufactured parts for their airplane were moved piece by piece from Dayton under the sponsorship of Henry and Edsel Ford.

Two survivors of the little group that stood transfixed on the sands of Kill Devil hill near Kitty Hawk, N. C., on Dec. 17, 1903, when the Wrights demonstrated their theories of flight were here. They are John T. Daniels and A. D. Etheridge, coast guardsmen, who helped the Wrights in the historic flight.

Here also are three Army officers who observed military tests of the first Wright airplane offered the government. They are Major General Benjamin D. Foullis, retired, former chief of the Army Air Corps; Col. Frank P. Lahm, Second Corps Area, Governors Island, N. Y., and Col. Frederick E. Humphreys of New York City.

MORE PUMP PRIMING

(Chicago Daily News)

Disregarding the advice of experienced businessmen, even that of Bernard Baruch, close friend and counselor of the President, the administration proposes, as its sole remedy of the Roosevelt depression, what?

MORE PUMP PRIMING.

Every expedient it tried, from 1933 to 1937, to promote recovery failed but one, SPENDING TEN BILLION DOLLARS. That succeeded, but only so long as the spending continued. When spending was curtailed, as it was in 1937, the artificial recovery it produced collapsed. Swiftly commodity prices broke, security values melted away, the springs of capital dried up, production fell off and unemployment in a few months reached and went beyond the unemployment figures for 1933.

Vain was attempted regimentation of business through the NRA. Futile was the plowing up of crops and the slaughter of food animals under the AAA. Empty of results was the unprecedented purchase of gold and silver at twice their market value. Failure was the portion of Fascist price-fixing through the Guffey-Vinson coal law. Acute disaster attended the toleration of the sit-down strikes that followed the passage of the John Lewis-dictated Wagner Labor Law. Humiliating defeat marked the effort to capture control of the Supreme Court. The list might be extended to include all of the New Deal experiments. They all failed. Only SPENDING produced the effect desired—and events have now proved that to be a MOCK RECOVERY.

But whether it was artificial, or not, it served an admirable political purpose in 1936, and it must be made to serve a political purpose in 1938. So we are to have spending on a grand scale again. It is depended on to bring a false flush of health to the cheeks of business—until the fall elections are over and won.

SEVEN BILLIONS FOR PUMP PRIMING.

A two-billion-dollar expansion of bank credit, and five billions of new federal spending and lending, including a billion and a quarter for Harry Hopkins to distribute, chiefly through big city political machines that can be depended upon to see that the money will go where it will do the most good—to the machine and its "sugar daddy" in Washington.

We heard a lot about "economy" when the Roosevelt depression began. We never hear it now. We are back again to Keynes, and his "spending our way out of depression." We are also on our way to more deficit financing by selling bonds to the banks—with all of the acute dangers to the whole banking structure which that involves. We owe more than thirty-eight billions now—five more billions will make the debt $43,000,000,000! That means an ANNUAL interest charge of more than a billion and a quarter. If we set up, out of tax receipts, an interest and sinking fund of TWO BILLION DOLLARS a year, it will take us more than TWENTY-FIVE YEARS to reduce the debt to the size it was when Roosevelt became President. And when we have spent the Five Billions more, if the purely political causes of the Roosevelt depression have not been removed, we will be just where we are today.

TWO COURSES OF ACTION

The world is aware generally that the Mexican government recently seized property valued at several hundreds of millions of dollars from foreign oil companies operating in Mexico.

Among the largest losers were United States and British corporations.

Both the United States and British governments felt that President Lazaro Cardenas of Mexico was without justification for his act. Each government went about seeking redress in its own way.

The United States sent a note to Senor Cardenas suggesting that he might be acting wrongfully. At least the United States government suggested that the companies so victimized should be reimbursed on the basis of actual cost of the properties, less depreciation.

The British government sent a stronger note. The note from London said the seizure was unjustified, and insisted that nothing less than complete restoration could be considered.

At this time the possibility, or probability, is that the losing companies will get little financial redress, considering the somewhat shaky state of Mexican finances, but it will be interesting to see whether the British, taking a firm and uncompromising stand, will fare better than the Americans.

The United States has adopted a good neighbor policy toward the republics south of us. We need the trade. The British also have been courting a Latin American business.

To date the British, without a good neighbor policy, have taken no reprisals. But the United States has dealt a severe blow to the Mexican financial situation by suspending the purchase of Mexican silver at pegged prices.

Day by Day Lessons for Reading During Lenten Season

SATURDAY, EASTER EVEN

Read St. Matthew 27:37-66

And when Joseph had taken the body, he wrapped it in a clean linen cloth, and laid it in his own new tomb, which he had hewn out in the rock; and he rolled a great stone to the door of the sepulchre, and departed.—From the Gospel for the Day.

A young missionary in India lay dying in extreme pain, the result of an accident. He seemed to be past speech, but his lips moved. One of his friends, kneeling beside him, caught the words, "And we indeed justly."

The words of the dying thief! Could we take them on our lips, if we were called to such suffering today?

This is our last day of preparation for Easter. It is not a time for strong emotion, but for quiet self-examination. "Were you there when they crucified my Lord? Were you there?"

He lies there very gently on the rocky shelf. He makes no passionate

LIFE SENTENCE POSSIBLE FATE FOR RACKETEER

New York, April 16—(AP)—A threat of a lifetime in prison, instead of the two years he surrendered to serve, hung today over Jacob (Gurrah) Shapiro, bulk-necked king of the rackets.

The threat came from the possibility that, while already serving one term and facing trial in two more cases, he might be indicted again under the 1934 federal anti-rackets act which provides a possible maximum sentence of 99 years.

Hunted the world over, with $7,500 offered for his capture and $7,500 more for Louie (Lepke) Buchalter, his erstwhile partner, "Gurrah" walked up to a guard at the federal house of detention yesterday and said simply, "I want to surrender."

For nearly a year, he had been a fugitive. "Lepke" was still missing today.

Both men, accused of muscling into the $85,000,000 fur dressing industry in New York and New Jersey, were convicted under the Sherman anti-trust act of conspiracy to monopolize the rabbit fur industry by strong-arm methods.

After the U. S. circuit court of appeals affirmed Shapiro's conviction and freed Buchalter, Shapiro jumped bail last June on a sentence of two years and a $10,000 fine, and both men fled new federal and state indictments charging racketeering in the fancy fur and garment rackets, respectively.

MAJOR LOOPS OPEN SEASON MONDAY P. M.

Roosevelt Among the Spectators At Washington

New York, April 16—(AP)—The clients having been worked into a suitable lather by as fancy a lot of spring balling as Connie Mack, the oldest inhabitant, ever saw, the 1938 big league baseball campaign at last is on the verge of getting down to business.

It starts with a swoosh at Washington on Monday afternoon, when President Franklin D. Roosevelt is scheduled to watch a couple of very long shots, the Washington Senators and Philadelphia Athletics, bang each other about. At the same time, up in Boston, the champion New York Yankees will begin what looks like another grand march, against the Boston Red Sox, weather permitting.

Only two tilts are on Monday's program, but on the following day the cannonading will become general on all fronts. The New York Giants, two-time champs in the National league and slim favorites to win again, open against the Boston Bees at the Polo Grounds.

National Fight Looms
As for some seasons past, prospects for a genuine pennant fight between two or more clubs are wrapped up in the National league. In the opinion of a majority of experts, the Giants again will get their toughest competition from the Chicago Cubs, with the St. Louis Cardinals and Pittsburgh Pirates also breathing down their necks.

Nothing of the kind is forecast in the American league, where the Yankees are deemed to have such a bulge over their nearest neighbors that only a general falling apart of the veteran team could deprive them of a third world championship.

What's more remarkable about the rush to get on the side of the Bronx members is the fact they will face the Red Sox Monday without their greatest player, Joe DiMaggio, in the lineup. Myril Hoag, who figures to elude to 50 points under DiMaggio's potential figure, will occupy Giuseppe's centerfield post.

DiMaggio's stubborn holdout for $40,000, and Colonel Jake Ruppert's equally hard-headed refusal to offer him more than $25,000, has done much to enliven the training season.

Guy's Team Beats E. C. Specials And South Central Ten

Guy's Confectionery defeated the E. C. Specials, 13 to 6, in a Friday softball game. In another contest the Candyman played the Bluebirds of South Central, winning by a 15 to 4 score.

Bill Christos, for the first time captain of his team, played the Confectionery crew in a practice game which Guy's lost, 15 to 9. Many players were changed around on both teams to try out new men for positions.

Bits of Gossip of Sports Picked Up By
AP Writer

By SID FEDER
(Pinch-Hitting for Eddie Brietz)
New York, April 16—(AP)—That Yankee infield misses Tony Lazzeri like they'd miss Jake Ruppert's pawkroll if it weren't around on pay day. They'll probably get together and go to town before long, but right now, all of 'em, particularly Frankie Crosetti, are as jittery as a bride left at the altar, without old Poosh 'Em Opp's steady hand. Brooklyn fans took one look at the Yanks dropping a 5-0 decision to the Daffy Dodgers yesterday and wanted to know "in their best Flatbushese," "Are dem da champs?" Lefty Gomez is a Flatbush favorite, though. Maybe it's that "El Goofy" tag.

Gabby Street and Boiling Bolly Grimes are wearing number 13 uniforms this season. Probably figure things can't be much worse any longer. Coast track scouts say Lou Zamperini, the reformed two-mile runner, may give Glenn Cunningham a run for his money soon as Dean Cromwell gets him used to the mile route at Southern California. Mike Jacobs has a new portrait of himself in his apartment, and it looks more like Tex Rickard than Mike.

Jock Sutherland is thinking of moving Biggie Goldberg from half-back to full on Pitt's football machine, so that Dick Cassiano, Biggie's understudy, can break into the regular lineup.

Bill Brandt jots down a few National league notes: Max Lanier, Card's rookie southpaw, made Pepper Martin's mudcat "varsity" and is sure to stick now, because the band'll miss him. Kiddo Davis, who changed his mind about retiring from baseball and the Cincinnati Reds, is a partner in an accounting firm at Bridgeport, Conn. Bert Haas, likely looking Brooklyn prospect, has two kid brothers coming along in the minors. All from Naperville, Ill. Freakiest training camp accident happened to Roy Johnson, Bees veteran, when a badminton "bird" hopped in his eye during a game in the camp hotel, and laid him up four days.

"Skipper" Bartell, five-year-old son of the Giants' shortstop Rowdy Bartell, has been at four spring training camps with the old man. Spud Davis started out to be a pharmacist and wound up as a Reds catcher.

SCORING PEAK OF A. B. C. MEET SEEMS PASSED

"Name" Teams Have Not Accomplished Much
This Year

Chicago, April 16—(AP)—The scoring peak of the 38th annual American Bowling Congress appears definitely to have been passed. For two days not a change has been made in the top ten in the standings.

The 48-day stand will end Tuesday evening. Only seven more squads of five-man teams remain to take the 40-A. B. C. drives. Here and there on the list of 280 is a "name" team, but so far in the 1938 Congress, "name" teams have accomplished little.

Of the first five in the standings, only the leading Birk Brothers Brewers have a national reputation before the firing started.

The all-events total is so low that the winning figure may be the smallest in four years.

Will Be Rare Feat
Should Don Beatty of Jackson, Mich., retain first place with the 1978 total be posted March 12, it will be a rare feat. Seldom, if ever, has a winning figure been turned in so early in the tournament.

The last of the defending champions to appear, Gene Gagliardi of Mt. Vernon, N. Y., bowed out yesterday. Gagliardi posted 535, a score that will not even share in the 3,488 prizes.

In the team events last night, the Falls City Hi-Bru, five from Indianapolis did a similar fade out. They had captured the title two years ago with a 3,089 count. They moved only 2892 maples off the drives this time.

HUB NEW MEMBER?

New York—(AP)—There are comparatively few major league pitchers who have joined the exclusive 200 lifetime victories class. King Carl Hubbell of the Giants will be eligible as soon as he wins eight games this season.

V. F. W. SPONSOR OF 1938 S-BALL TOURNAMENTS

Competition In Both the Boys, Girls Classes For World Title

Registration of teams for the boys' and girls' softball championship of the world will get under way this week as 3700 posts of the U. S. receive the rules and instructions for conducting V. F. W. junior softball tournaments for 1938.

Junior softball tournaments are a comparatively new addition to the sports parade. They were inaugurated last spring when the Amateur Softball Association, governing body of the sport in the United States and Canada, despaired of keeping up with the rapid development of both junior and senior softball and invited the V. F. W. to take the junior association off its hands. In the future the Association will confine its attention to adult teams and the V. F. W., by virtue of its special agreement with the association, will direct the organization of teams of players under 17 years of age.

Although preliminary organization was not completed until late last spring, junior softball got under way in several states during the 1937 season. Six state championships—Florida, Maine, Louisiana, Texas, Kansas, and Michigan—met in Buffalo, New York, during the 1937 National Encampment of the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the U. S., to compete for the first boys' softball championship of the world. The team sponsored by St. Rita's Community Center of Detroit, Michigan, and the Wayne County Council of the V. F. W., holds the 1937 world championship title.

The 1938 world's championship tournament will be held in Columbus, Ohio, during the National V. F. W. Encampment, August 21-26. It will include girls' teams as well as boys', and will take on an international flavor by admitting the champions of Canadian provinces. Only state or province champions will be eligible for this tournament.

Open to All Teams
Junior softball is not limited to teams sponsored by V. F. W. Posts. It was pointed out, nor to teams whose members are sons or daughters of veterans. It is open to every organized softball team made up of players who will be less than 17 years of age on June 30, 1938. There is no restriction as to who may enter or sponsor teams.

Junior softball competition is conducted locally by V. F. W. Posts in cooperation with city and state recreation officials. Team entry forms may be obtained free of charge from local V. F. W. units. The activity in each state is under the direction of a state junior softball commissioner.

The deadline for entries is June 30. As soon as that date is passed, competition will begin to determine local championships. Each authorized V. F. W. Post will be entitled to enter its championship boys' team and girls' team in the state tournament. The first step is the determination of the local championships.

About August 1, state tournaments will be held throughout the United States. Only local winners will be eligible to participate in these tournaments. The award to the winners will be the official boys' and girls' state championship title and the right to compete in the world's championship junior softball tournament.

This tournament will be held during the week of August 21-28 at Columbus, Ohio, and will bring together the cream of the boys' and girls' softball teams of North America. Every team entered will be the winner of its own state or province championship.

Part of Youth Program
Junior softball is part of the National youth program of the V. F. W. It is conducted on a strictly amateur basis. Its primary purpose is to provide an opportunity for every boy and girl in the United States to take part in healthful sport under proper direction and supervision.

Each player must be an amateur under the standards laid down by the Amateur Athletic Union and the Amateur Softball Association and must also prove his true age. Strict rules will prevent the formation of "all-star" teams or other policies which will over-emphasize the development of championship teams with consequent lack of emphasis on sportsmanship and recreation.

Junior softball is not subsidized by any group or agency. The V. F. W. receives no money from any source for its promotion. The tournament plan is designed to be self-supporting through the medium of a $3 entry fee which will be paid by each team. The compe-

Cleveland—There won't be another pitching duel between Bob Feller, the Indians' ace, and Carl Hubbell of the New York Giants this spring. Manager Oscar Vitt shifted his plans and scheduled Feller to pitch Cleveland's homecoming game today against Hal Schumacher, while Hubbell will hurl tomorrow.

Newark, N. J.—George Scharein, the Phillies star shortstop, may be out of the opening game against Brooklyn Tuesday. He pulled a charley horse several weeks ago and has complained of pains ever since.

Dayton, O.—Right-handed Tommy Bridges now is slated to pitch the Detroit Tigers' opener against the White Sox at Chicago.

Brooklyn—Cookie Lavagetto, who hit only 282 last season, is threatening to become a potent factor in the Brooklyn Dodgers' attack.

St. Louis—The success or failure of the St. Louis Cardinals and Browns' exhibition jaunts will be decided in their city series starting today. Each has a 500 average against major league opposition so far.

Chicago—The Chicago Cubs' invalids are beginning to come around although Manager Charlie Grimm indicated today he won't start either Augie Galan or Phil Cavarretta in Tuesday's opener. Galan doffed his sun glasses yesterday for the first time since undergoing an eye operation in Los Angeles. X-rays disclosed Cavarretta's wrist was not fractured.

New York—The New York Yankees' followers have figured it out that Joe DiMaggio will be losing approximately $162 a day if he doesn't turn up in time for the opener in Boston Monday. That's how much he'd get for each game on the basis of $25,000 the Yankees have offered to pay him for the 154-game season.

Dayton, O.—Deacon Bill McKee, one of the Cincinnati Reds has been spotted breaking down and smiling for an occasional fleeting moment. That's because Johnny Vander Meer, who usually needs an alley to find the plate, pitched five innings yesterday with no walks and only one hit batsman.

Boston—Boston's Bees and Red Sox, who split four games in Florida, resume their rivalry today.

Jersey City, N. J.—Herb Barna, outfielder, probably will be the Philadelphia Athletics' leadoff man in Monday's opener at Washington.

Salina, Kan.—The Pittsburgh Pirates figure their seven regular infielders and outfielders batted 340 in 10 games against the Chicago White Sox and Cubs this spring.

(open only to member high schools of Wisconsin Big Eight conference). The relay events will score 10-8-6-4-2. All individual events will score 5-4-3-2-1. Freshman relays will not be counted in the team totals.

PRINCIPIA IN BELOIT MEET

Coach Louis E. Means, director of the second annual Beloit relay meet to be held Friday night, May 6 at Walter Strong Memorial stadium, has received entry acceptances from Dubuque university and Principia college to swell the present field to 14 schools. Entries from five states, including South Dakota, Illinois, Iowa, Michigan and Wisconsin have been received, and at least three more states are expected to send teams to America's only night outdoor relay classic.

The program of events for the meet is as follows:
Special events: 100 yard dash, pole vault, high jump, broad jump, shot put, discus throw, javelin throw.
Relay events: 440 yard relay, 880 yard relay, one mile relay, two mile relay, medley relay (220-440-880-360 yard relay (shuttle high hurdles, 3 men).
Freshman events: Freshman Spring medley relay (440-220-220-880), freshman distance medley relay (440-880-1320-mile).
New events for 1938: One mile run, high school 880 yard relay.

MARQUETTE TO OPEN HEAVIEST TRACK SEASON

Wisconsin First To Test
Hilltoppers April
23rd

Milwaukee, Wis., April 16—Coach Conrad M. Jennings' Marquette university trackmen will open the heaviest outdoor campaign in Hill-top cinder-path history here next Saturday afternoon, April 23, when they will face a strong and well-balanced University of Wisconsin squad in a dual meet at the Hill-top stadium.

The Marquette tracksters concluded their indoor activities a week ago in the state A. A. U. championships at Madison, where they finished a close second to Wisconsin and won six of the 12 first places. Their showing in the state meet has encouraged them in their preparations for the outdoor dual with Coach Tom Jones' Badgers.

Marquette's attractive outdoor schedule includes: April 23, Wisconsin in Milwaukee; April 29-30, Drake relays at Des Moines; May 7, Michigan State at East Lansing; May 14, Purdue at Lafayette; May 21, Notre Dame in Milwaukee; May 28, Minnesota in Milwaukee; June 4, I. C. 4-A at Cambridge, Mass.; June 10, Central Collegiate in Milwaukee; June 17-18, National Collegiate at Minneapolis, Minn.; July 1-2, National A. A. U. at Buffalo, N. Y.

Two juniors, Larry Hartwig and John Dye, Milwaukee, are Jennings' favorites in the weight events and will be particularly strong in the discus. They also are trying their hand at the javelin.

With Johnny Callahan, Milwaukee, as the only veteran dashman, sophomores will tell most of the story in the sprint events. Among them are Harry Kinert, Freeport, Ill., who, however, has been injured; Maynard Black, Ottumwa, Ia.; Charles Beaudry, Milwaukee, and Bob Shurilla, Gary, Ind. Shurilla also is strong hope in the hurdle races and is particularly promising in the lows.

The Hilltoppers' best bet in the middle distances will be Herman Carr, Gary colored sophomore, who looms strong in the quarter-mile. Others include Bill McCahill, Whitefish Bay, Wis., senior, and Ed Butler, Chicago, sophomore, quarter-milers, and John Hoiler, Aberdeen, S. D., and Bob Monahan, Milwaukee, novice half-milers.

Meeting of Harmon Home Bureau Enjoyed

The first afternoon meeting of the Harmon Home Bureau was held Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Theodore Knoll with Mrs. William Deitz assisting. The meeting was called to order at 1:30, followed by group singing of the song, "Smiles."

Roll call, "Tongue Twisters," was answered by 18 members and two visitors. Mrs. August Schulte and Mrs. Kuistrom, a very interesting lesson on "Wills" was given by the local leader, Mrs. Kugler. The program consisted of a skit given by Leola Dietz, Jane Knoll and Mrs. Knoll. The meeting adjourned to meet at the home of Mrs. William Otto on Monday, May 9. The hostess then served a tempting luncheon.

The securities commission, in line with recommendations in Mr. Roosevelt's recovery message, simplified registration procedure to make it easier, faster and cheaper for small business firms to issue stocks and bonds.

The Senate appropriations committee approved the proposed $50,000,000 increase in the civilian conservation corps allotment for 1938-39. It previously had received House approval.

1003 CASES OF RELIEF CLOSED

IERC REPORTS

Private Employment, Resources, Income, Cited Reasons

Chicago, April 16.—(AP)—The Illinois emergency relief commission has announced 1,003 relief cases in Springfield had been closed or recommended for closing out of 1,805 cases involved in a special investigation the commission conducted between January 1 and March 19.

Of the cases stricken from the relief rolls, 353 were found to have received WPA employment during the period of the investigation. Reasons the commission gave for recommending 650 other relief recipients be dropped were: 127 had private employment; 134 had income or resources; 312 failed to re-apply for relief, and 77 cases for "all other" reasons.

The commission report, signed by Carl H. Martini, certification division chief, and Leo M. Lyons, executive secretary of the commission, said 112 of the cases were closed by the relief staff of Capital township during the course of the investigation. The township is co-extensive with the city of Springfield.

Submitted today in a meeting of the IERC, the report said in part: "Of approximately 1,805 cases referred for investigation, 353 at some time during the course of the review received WPA employment and were closed by joint action of the township and the review staff."

"Of the 1,452 cases remaining, 802 cases were recommended for relief and 650 were closed or recommended for closing x x x."

"A more detailed analysis of the disposition of the cases investigated, including the total amount of relief for all cases recommended for relief x x x will be included in a final report which will contain social data as well as economic information."

The commission recommended changes in the Springfield relief administrative procedure. They included:

1. Consolidate case information and findings of the IERC investigators in the township office.

2. Combine the now separate medical relief office with the central relief office.

3. Make a monthly check on relief families' earnings in private employment or other resources, where indicated.

4. "The relief order-writing department should be reorganized to provide x x x requisitions of all relief through a central or head relief order clerk."

5. "There should be provided an official manual of policies and office procedures x x x."

BATTLE RENT HOLY LAND

Jerusalem, April 16.—(AP)—A battle between British troops and terrorists raged in the Jenin area, about 50 miles north of Jerusalem, today while the Holy City quietly awaited tomorrow's Easter services.

Unofficial reports from Arab sources at Jenin said 19 Arabs had been killed and two wounded in a battle which was still under way. Military authorities confirmed reports of a heavy engagement but listed no casualties.

Officials said scouting planes sighted a large band and British troops clashed with it. In another outbreak which shattered the Easter calm of the Holy Land, terrorists' bullets killed three Jews.

Extra guards were posted at vital points throughout the Holy Land as thousands of pilgrims arrived for the holiday observances of three great faiths.

Many Denominations

While Christians of many denominations worshipped on Easter Sunday in the Church of the Holy Sepulcher, Moslems assembled at the Mosque of Omar for the Feast of Nebi Musa and Jews at the Wailing Wall for their Passover.

At the devout trod the age-worn streets of Jerusalem's old city intent on tomorrow's holy observances, military authorities announced that troops had been dispatched to Basra, a village near the Syrian border, where an armed gang ambushed a carload of Jewish travelers.

Truesdell Takes Command Of Fort Sheridan Brigade

Chicago, April 16.—(AP)—Brig. Gen. Karl Truesdell took formal command today of Fort Sheridan and the 12th Infantry brigade.

He succeeded Brig. Gen. Philip B. Peyton, who has been assigned to duty in Honolulu.

Gen. Truesdell, who enlisted as a private in the United States army in 1901, came out of the World War with the rank of colonel in the 1st division and the 5th corps.

After the war he served at the Leavenworth, Kan., army post, the naval war college, the army war college, and as commander of the 16th infantry brigade at Fort Jay, Governor's Island, N. Y.

Small Business Given Boost By SEC For Growth

Will Help Raise Capital Of Little Firms Faster

Washington, April 16.—(AP)—"Little business" wanting more capital so it can be bigger got a boost today from the securities commission.

In response to President Roosevelt's suggestion that SEC red tape be cut in order to help small business raise capital more easily, the commission decided:

(1) To establish a unit in the registration division to aid prospective registrants.

(2) To reduce the amount of financial information required in registration statements for small issues of established enterprises.

(3) To broaden the exemption for issues of less than $100,000. The commission has been making a study of rules under the securities act of 1933 to determine whether it can make issuance of securities cheaper and simpler.

The program will remain in effect for six months, pending completion of the study.

The "small established enterprise" was defined as "an enterprise which has total assets of not more than $500,000 which has been in operation for at least five years for at least one of which a net profit can be shown."

Under the broadened exemption for security issues of $100,000 or less, registration will become unnecessary by the filing of a notification of intention to issue and by qualifying the issue under the blue sky laws of states where it is to be offered for sale.

Franklin Track Team Defeats Lee Center

The local high school opened the 1938 track season by winning a close meet from their old rivals, Lee Center. The Lee Center showed strength in the running events, placing at least first in each race. The Groves contented themselves with seconds and thirds in the runs but showed power in the field events—scoring slams in the high jump and the shot put.

Play to be Given

The Missionary society of the Presbyterian church will present a play in the church basement Wednesday evening, April 21 at 7:45. The play is entitled "Mrs. Jenkins' Brilliant Idea" and will be presented by eight ladies as follows:

Mrs. Jones—Mrs. Ada Peterman.
Mrs. Jenkins—Mrs. Louis Myers.
Mrs. Smith—Mrs. Flora Dierdorff.

Mrs. Brown—Mrs. Ruby Reigle.
Mrs. Rowe—Mrs. Myrtle Mattern.
Mrs. Lane—Mrs. Iva Black.

Mrs. Scott—Miss Eunice Miller.
Mrs. Hodges—Mrs. Rose Senger.
After the play refreshments will be served. A small silver offering will be taken at the door. The public is urged to attend.

Senior Class Play
Friday evening, April 22 is the date to remember. On that evening the last play of the year will be given in the Kersten gymnasium. There will be only one performance, so be sure to reserve that date to see the "Dummy," a mystery comedy in three acts.

The action centers around an absent-minded professor who hires as his secretary a deaf and dumb typist. Complications follow which lead to many amusing and dramatic situations. We find that the "dummy" is not so dumb, after all. But that is only the beginning. When a diamond valued at five thousand dollars disappears, there is real cause for excitement. Of course, no mystery is complete without a detective, but we defy you to find Alaska's equal in the whole police force. The villain and his partner, the nurse, are clever—but not clever enough to get by this time. The mystery is solved, but the methods used are original and may surprise you.

Don't forget the date—Friday evening, April 22.

Social Notes
The Kilo club will meet Tuesday afternoon, April 19 at the home of Mrs. Mabel Baker. Roll call, our United States. Reading, "We Become Americans," by Olga Alashiloff. Reader, Mrs. Faith Cravens.

The Aid society of the Methodist church will meet Thursday afternoon, April 21 with Mrs. Elizabeth Durkes. Assisting are Miss Flora Wicker, Mrs. Clyde Phillips, Mrs. Guy Wasson and Miss Ethel Sheap. A good attendance is desired.

New Annals
The senior class of the high school are hard at work selling their annuals. The sales are rather slow, but the class is hoping that there will be a demand for them.

The annuals, we are told, will be the best that have been attempted here. They will have a good substantial cover and plenty of pages of interesting material not to mention the pictures which are a No. 1. Surely every pupil will want one of these annuals to place away for future reference and pleasure.

Just now it is impossible for them to know how extremely valuable this book will become, dare we say fifty years from now. Nevertheless, they many or few who are now in school, will always find pleasure in looking over this annual. Parents really should see to it that children are given one of these annuals.

A Good Meeting
The Girl Scouts met Monday evening, April 11 at 7:30 in the school house.

The meeting was called to order by the captain. The troop was divided into two patrols, six girls in a patrol. Frances Kelley was chosen leader of patrol 1, with Kathleen Karper as assistant. Eleanor Yocum was chosen leader of patrol 2, with Dorothy Tholen as assistant.

Officers of the Scouts were then elected as follows:
Doris Howard, scribe.
Julia Moulton, treasurer.
Maxine Kelley, reporter.

Girl Scout laws, motto and promise were reviewed.

The next meeting will be April 18 at 7:30 in the school house. Every Scout or those planning to join try and be present at that time.

Brethren Notes
A fine service is being planned Easter Sunday morning. Both the senior and junior choirs will sing. An appropriate message will be brought by the pastor. An invitation will be extended to new members. Every member is urged to be present Sunday morning. If you are not attending church anywhere, we extend to you a welcome to come and worship with us.

Last Sunday was to have been roll call Sunday, but because of road and weather conditions that was postponed until the first Sunday in May.

Sunday evening the cantata "Hail the Victor" will be presented at the gymnasium by the joint choirs. You will want to hear this fine program.

Easter Sunday the topic for the morning sermon is "The Conquered Powers."

Epworth League will give way for the cantata, under the direction of Mrs. Bertha Rorick.

Sunday, April 24, there will be a unique service conducted. Members of the preparatory class will be received into membership in the church in a candlelight service. This beautiful and impressive ceremony will be accompanied by music.

Thursday afternoon the Ladies Aid society will meet with Mrs. Elizabeth Durkes.

Ralph M. Dreger, Pastor.

Newspaper Notes
The first track meet of this season was held Tuesday, April 12. Lee Center was the visiting team. Other track meets had been planned but had to be postponed on account of the bad weather.

The junior class will start this week to work on the annual Junior-Senior banquet which will be Friday night, April 29. This is one of the most important social events of the school year.

Last week and this week are the weeks which the seniors are using for their annual sale. This year the annual will be in book size and bound in regular book binding. They are being made by the Blankenburg company.

Mrs. Rorick's music classes are giving an operetta sometime in the near future. "Blue Beard" is the name of it. The characters are taken from all of her mixed classes. It promises to be good.

In the last addition of the "Athlete" magazine, we noticed that the B. A. A. was welcomed into the State League. We have joined the league and have found it very interesting as well as a lot of fun. The "Athlete" magazine is a sport magazine and we feel very proud that our G. A. A. group was mentioned. Also, we find ourselves on the honor roll in this magazine for sending our reports of the district tournament in on time. This is another honor that we feel very proud of.

Th typing class has been working in the dark the last week or so. We are having new lights installed in our room. The boys of the electrical wiring class are getting some experience in doing this kind of work. They have done a very good job and we thank them for giving us more light in the typing room.

The bookkeeping class is drawing up a close their regular studies in the textbook. They will start on their third practice set soon. This set is on partnerships.

The alumni dance will be held in the Kersten gymnasium May 20. All the alumni are invited. We will have more about the dance later. Until then mark your calendar for May 20.

BLACK UHLAN FAVORED TO BEAT DUDAS

Schmeling Points For Title Bout With Louis

Hamburg, Germany, April 16—(AP)—Max Schmeling's fists, the only pair that ever rocked heavyweight champion Joe Louis to sleep, are expected to bounce off Steve Dudas' chin to equally good effect tonight when the German title contender and the Edgewater, N. J., trial horse clash in a 15-round bout.
For Schmeling this is the last in a series of practice sprints before he tangles with Louis for the championship in the United States on June 22. For Dudas it is a chance to make a handsome piece of change—a crowd of 20,000 is expected—plus the remote but ever-present possibility of an upset.

The only expert who has gone to bat for Dudas' chances against Schmeling is Professor Billy Mc-Carney, Steve's manager. The professor's principal offering is that Steve has an eight-year advantage.
But since Louis had even more of a margin over the Black Uhlman, and still Schmeling stopped him in 12 rounds, it hardly was a point to impress the skeptics.

Schmeling, who rarely lets himself out of shape and has done his training for this bout with his customary thoroughness, weighed in at 194 1/2 to the American's 195 last night. The preliminary ceremonies staged at a local hotel, drew a large gallery.

The fight will start at approximately 10 p. m. (3 p. m. CST) and will be broadcast to the United States.

Parmalee Sent To Minneapolis From Cubs Ball Team

Chicago, April 16—(AP)—Leroy
Parmalee, right-handed pitcher who came to the Chicago Cubs a year ago from the St. Louis Cardinals, was sent outright today to Minneapolis of the American Association.

The action completes a transaction begun by the Cubs last year when they acquired Outfielder
Carl Reynolds from Minneapolis for cash and a player to be delivered this spring.

The Boxwood Barrier

By BLANCHE SMITH FERGUSON

The Story So Far:

In love with dashing Gary Brent, Judith Goodloe marries Reuben Oliver for his money, only to discover he is bankrupt. Sticking to her bargain, she accompanies him to a dismal mining town where twins are born. Then Reuben loses his job. Red-headed Cissy Rogers, loving Reuben, schemes to throw Gary and Judith together again by getting Reuben a job in the lumber camp Gary manages. On her arrival Judith bumps into Gary, and knows the old fascination is still strong.

Chapter 29

Dinner for Two

They came out of the winding road before a rustic cabin. It had a porch all around and a big stone chimney built on the outside. At first glance it seemed to be growing from the primeval rock upon which it stood.

"Here's your castle, Judy," Gary shut off the car's engine.

Judith came out of her dreaming and surveyed the log house.

"This isn't Plot 16?"

"That's just a wooden platform tonight. You'll have to use this."

"But—"

"There're a dozen or more of these cabins scattered about. Galbreath built them. The Company's officials use them or the lumber merchants when they come. You're not putting anyone out. Don't worry."

"Well—just for tonight. You're awfully kind, Gary."

"Point! When a princess comes visiting—We have nothing here good enough for you, Judy."

It was sweet to be flattered again. Grand to have someone to make things easy. She followed Gary up three steps, across the deep porch.

The door swung easily upon an immense room with high pitched, beamed ceiling and dark, shining floor.

Judith paused at the threshold. After the clutter of Casper Street this room, restful, spacious and shadowy, seemed too beautiful to be true. There were triple casement windows on two sides framing vistas of sky and woodland. A huge stone fireplace, with a door opening invitingly on either side, filled the far end of the room.

"Gary—it's a dream!"

"Glad you like it. After I move in the offspring and luggage, I'm going to drive your car to my cabin on the other side of the hill, and bring Alf up here to cook your supper."

"Alf—?" Her eyes widened. "Is Alf here?"

"Very much here. Brought Kingpin out. Raised such a howl at being left behind he alarmed the valley."

She nodded comprehendingly. She read the handwriting on the wall. "You were homesick too. Kingpin and Alf—a bit of old Maryland."

Gary grinned. "It's funny though how a horse and a colored boy can make a place feel and look like home."

"Like heaven!" She was remembering those first days in Fordney's Gulch—smoky stove, scorched food, burnt fingers. She said: "If you lend me your cook you'll have supper with me, of course."

"I was expecting to be invited," Gary confessed shamelessly, "though if you're too tired—there's a community dining hall—"

"I'm not too tired."

"Alf will bring all supplies."

"Not too many though. Remember I'm moving in the morning." But she didn't want to think of the morning. She didn't want to think beyond the moment.

When Gary had gone she moved about the big room softly, as though at the slightest noise it would vanish like a too perfect dream. Deep comfortable chairs invited her. Big, soft divans—two of them—flanked the fireplace. There were plenty of lamps placed just right. Conveniently small, low tables scattered about. Balsam scented air drifted in—kitchen and dining room all aqua blue and cream paint with matching linoleum. A blue peasant cloth covered the table standing in the deep windows. Blue dishes.

Young and Excited

The door to the left of the fireplace led to a gay combination

"Cooking would be fun here," Her subconscious mind added: "Cooking for Gary would be fun."

Disloyal to Reuben even to think that.

Back in the living room the babies sat wonderingly in the middle of the dark polished floor.

"Isn't it grand, darlings?" Paradise—or near it! Judith explored what lay beyond the door to the right of the fireplace. She found a restful bedroom—casements open to cool greenness. Metal beds. Box springs. Hair mattresses and in an alcove, a white, white bath with hot water and cold, just waiting to gush from chromium faucets. And this was the forest!

"Angels," she went back to the patient, bewildered twins and hastily commenced to strip off small, untidy garments. "We have water to splash in—plenty of it. You're going to take your first swim."

After they had floated in a great white porcelain sea, been rubbed to pinkness with soft, enveloping towels, slipped into cool little nightgowns and replete with bread and milk put to bed in the enclosed end of the porch where four beds, arranged ship fashion, lined the walls. Judith went in doors to make herself presentable. She made a rite of dressing for supper. Carefully she manicured her nails—it didn't help them much. She arched the dark wings of her eyebrows. Spread powder evenly over her tanned face. Outlined her mouth in vivid red. Brushed her hair until it shone like burnished chestnut, then slipped into the older of the two evening dresses she had brought. It was white, flimsy georgette, cut to a deep V back and front. Her shoulders arose from it satin smooth. Her neck showed a line of too deep sunburn—

A reminder of Fordney's Gulch! She never wanted to think of Fordney's Gulch again. Hastily she searched through bags, found a string of lapis lazuli beads, twisted them around her offending throat. They were inexpensive beads but the intensified blue of Judith's eyes. There was no trace of weariness in the face she saw in the mirror. "I had forgotten I could look so nice." She went out on the porch to wait for Gary.

But for the sleeping children she could have forgotten there was anything in her life except waiting for Gary. For the first time in all the years, she had no vague uneasiness about his coming. She knew by some infallible, illogical reasoning, that Gary was more eager to come tonight than he had ever been. He would not keep her waiting long.

She felt excited, young, hopeful. A different entity from the hopeless, tired Judith who had left the drab monotony of Fordney's Gulch—this morning? A lifetime ago!

His Nearness, His Deanness

Alf arrived and took possession of the kitchen. Judith heard him moving about, humming a low, plaintive spiritual.

Gary came through the sweet, early darkness, cool and splendid in white linen. "Judy—are you there?"

The years rolled backward. Reuben, marriage, Fordney's Gulch were blotted out with one fell sweep. Her hand went out to meet his.

"Isn't it a miracle—your being here, Judy, with me coming to supper?"

It was beyond a miracle. His nearness, his deanness—the new certainty that needed no words!

Alf laid a small table on the porch. He placed two tall pale candles upon it and put maiden hair fern—fragile and cool—in the middle of it.

Judith and Gary dawdled over their meal talking mostly in monosyllables.

"We'll go riding tomorrow, Judy."

"I'd love that!"

"You'll ride Kingpin. I'll take one of the Company's horses."

"It sounds heavenly but I'll be starting life at Plot 16 in the morning—working like a slave."

"Forget it for tonight, can't you? If you insist on going—on living like a gypsy—"

"If I insist—Gary don't be silly! I have to go to the place my husband provided."

He felt unreasonably irritated. "I'll have more coffee, please." He liked to watch her brown fingers dropping in sugar—two lumps—

"You remembered!"

"Yes, Reuben takes his black."

"Hang Reuben!"

The wavering flame of candlelight touched Gary's hair, intensified its coppery tints. It caught a gleam in Judith's eye—a gleam that brightened when she looked at her companion.

Gary caught the gleam—reflected it. He reminded himself that Judith's charm always affected him strongly after an absence. He was feeling it particularly now because

TOO LATE TO CLASSIFY by Baer

"I saw your classified ad in the Telegraph. Will you see if something can't be done with this?"

he had been so long deprived of the society of women of her type; added to this was pity for her plight—

Pity! He caught at the words in relief. That was what he was feeling, pity!

But he knew he was deceiving himself. Knew that for him somewhere, somehow, the hour had struck. He had known, since he watched her dusky head buried in Kingpin's mane, that this achingly sweet emotion, whose headiness was increasing with each passing moment, had nothing to do with pity.

Useless to remind himself that this was the same Judith. This was a new Judith—a Judith grown sweeter, more womanly, more tender, a million times more desirable. (Copyright, 1938, Blanche Smith Ferguson)

MEMEL NARROW AS THRESHOLD; DANGER ZONE

Memel, Lithuania — (Correspondence of the Associated Press)—

Lithuania's autonomous Memel territory is as narrow as a threshold and many are the armies that have crossed it in Europe's troubled history.

Only last month German motorized troops were at the edge of the threshold, awaiting Reichsfuehrer Hitler's order. But the order did not come because, on March 19, Lithuania capitulated to the Polish ultimatum.

Lithuanians fear Hitler's army eventually may rush across Memel and through their country to fight Soviet Russia's forces. Similarly, Germans in East Prussia fear the Red army some day may rush across Lithuania toward the threshold of Germany, which is Memel.

The status quo in Memel is guaranteed by four powers—Japan, Italy, France and Great Britain. The Versailles treaty merely separated Memel from Germany without specifying who was to get final possession of it. In 1923 Lithuania seized it and ultimately Memellanders were given autonomy by the Memel statute which also gave sovereignty to Lithuania.

The German element is strong in its parliament, the Landtag, with 24 out of 29 deputies. But the government at Kaunas can veto bills passed by the Landtag.

"We are tied hand and foot," complained a deputy, spokesman for the German element. "We have a clear majority but whenever we pass a bill which might improve the

Heard Roosevelt's Latest Talk Before

Emporia, Kan., April 16—(AP)—

Alf M. Landon, dressed in oil field clothes, dropped into the Emporia Gazette office Friday on his way to visit one of his oil wells.

"Governor," asked one of William Allen White's reporters, "what do you think of the President's radio speech Thursday night?"

The 1936 Republican presidential nominee grinned and answered:

"The speech sounded good if you had heard it for the first time. But having heard it so many times before, I couldn't help but think all the time the President was delivering it of the fact that there are as many unemployed today as there were when he went into office. I guess the increase in the national income which he bragged of didn't mean much to that large group."

lot of Memellanders it is promptly vetoed by the Lithuanian governor."
